Demands on health systems' Information Technology (IT) teams continue to grow exponentially. Over time, these demands have forced many health systems to focus on ensuring coverage vs. optimization, ultimately leaving significant dollars on the table.

SpendMend partners with our clients to help optimize their IT environment. Our comprehensive lifecycle approach ensures that our clients have the right structure, and that they get the right technology with improved agreements, meaningful SLAs, preferred pricing, and optimized licensing and utilization schemas. Our work saves hospitals, on average, 8%-15% of their IT budget.

Our comprehensive life-cycle approach separates vendors and products into discrete categories including (but not limited to):
